

The single most important difference BETWEEN LSNY EVENTS and Other Companies:

Michael Sage Schindler

If you really want to know who top people are in any industry, ask other top professionals in the same industry who and you get the savviest advice.

Wacky Wendy, www.wackywendy.com who is an entertainment industry icon, a walk around entertainer creating outrageously inventive hat designs out of paper plates, has been to thousands of parties, mitzvahs and events all over the country and world has seen more than 100 different MCs and DJs in the NYC area alone and the top companies on a regular basis. She is often contracted by the high end producers and planner as specialty entertainment so she has seen what the best has to offer.

This is what Wendy has to say about Michael Sage Schindler: “Michael is one of a kind...the only DJ (MC) who actually LISTENS to the crowd and guests. Everyone else is either shouting, in your face, announcer voicing it, and working their shtick. They tend to talk down to the audiences...Michael is the most NATURAL one I’ve seen. He talks to guests as friends. He can make great parties without the pushing, hype and BS that usually shows up. He never forces anything. He lifts them up effortlessly to this magical place. It’s so special and so unique. I can honestly say In my entire career on the party circuit I’ve never seen anyone like him. It’s a PLEASURE to be at one of his events.”

Daniel Mulhern of <http://mulhernentertainment.com/index.php> is one of the biggest producers and booking agents in Atlantic City – has traveled all over the country handling the biggest headliners, stars and bands for over 25 years.

This is what Daniel has to say about Michael Sage Schindler: “There is no way to describe what he does at events or how he does it, you just have to experience him. He has a natural gift for making crowds feel elated! It’s effortless for him, like in his DNA. And each individual feels they personally are connected to him. I’ve never seen anyone in my career who can do it like that. He’s a marvel. He hits it out of the park every single time. There is no description that quite captures it. But there is no one who else that does it like him.”

Producing with state of the art lighting, video screens, performers, musicians, dancers, décor, games, amusements, and crafts is NOT unique. Many companies use the same high end tools and can dazzle us this way. The fact that the same tools are available to all companies but Michael and his company LSNY Events is recognized as so dramatically different, universally loved and enthusiastically appreciated becomes a very compelling reason to call and find out more for your special event.

What is it that these industry pros with more than 50 years and tens of thousands events know?

Someone has to comfortably center, engage and relieve your guests of any stress that would negatively impact your event or party – while effectively tying together all the beautiful production elements. They need to reflect and echo your values, your heart and energy. Michael Sage Schindler is the one the industry recognizes as one of the very best.

If having something fresh, vibrant and euphoric vs. overhyped, heavy handed, over-driven affair matters to you then you will be delighted to call LSNY EVENTS and check availability. LSNY assures sensational celebrations that uplift and inspire people. According to those in the industry that know there is little comparison. Call 917.204.9690 today for your date and talk about your special event.